

THE FIRST OLYMPICS OF ANIMALS

Written and illustrated by
Jong-hoon Moon

PRICE USD 10.64

PUBLICATION DATE 21 SEP 2012

FORMAT Hardback

EXTENT 48 pages

CATEGORY Board Book

SIZE 265*230mm

RIGHTS WORLD

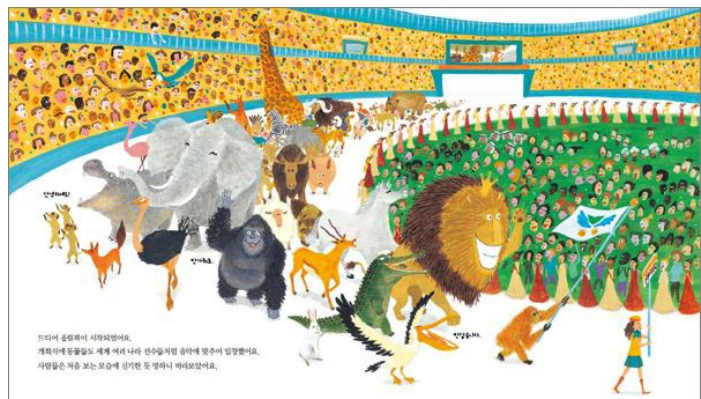

Many silly questions children ask are something like that.

"Is a cheetah is faster than human?"

Children can see what happens in such a huge competition, because here are the world's first biggest matches between humans and animals!

That means, the animals are invited by the International Olympic Committee!

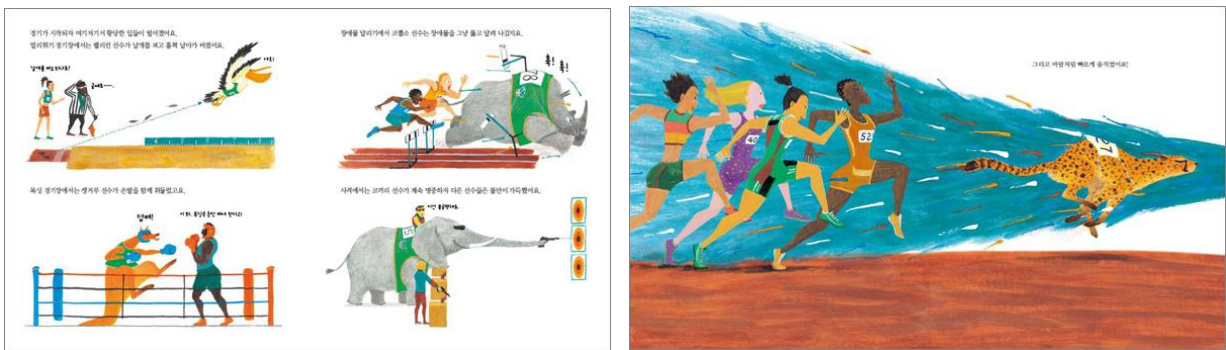

What is going on there?

After preparing all the process of the world competition, the IOC sends an invitation letter to athletes. And then, suddenly a small bird approaches to post box, takes a letter to an animal land!

They wonder what it is, so hold an urgent meeting. As an animal, are they okay to participate in there? But for whatever reason, they are invited. So the animals decide to accept the invitation, not because of fame or reward, just to have fun!

The animal's first Olympics is about bringing all the creatures together, overcoming difference of racism, religion, nationality, without any discrimination.

Narrative, funny and simple text follows the steps of this incredible new Olympics, and exquisite illustrations describe each animal's behavior and ability in competition in detail.

Author Information

Jong-hoon Moon, the writer and illustrator, studied visual design and illustration in Korea. As a father of his daughter, has written many children's books on their side, including A SMALL FISH ; WE ARE DAD AND DAUGHTER ; AN MISER ; THE TREE IS ALWAYS GOOD ; HERE IS HANYANG CASTLE.